What's new in DOA6 Seaside Eden Costume - Hitomi:

of Life Main menu Monthly Archives: June 2015 Panthers head coach Ron Rivera finds himself about three quarters of the way to his first 500 win as the Panthers head to Jacksonville next Sunday in a game that will either make or break the 2015 season. And his Panthers expect him to win. They're happy with the progress they've made under Rivera and they think a win in Jacksonville would feel pretty big and help them really close the gap between themselves and the sixth-place team in the NFC. So when I asked what they liked about Rivera, their answer was just... "Just everything," right tackle Byron Bell said. "It all comes back to him winning and setting the tone at the beginning of games and never being hesitant on the sideline or on the coaching staff. It's kind of a vibe we get from him. He's someone you wouldn't feel the stress of a game with. You know, he's not one to ever panic and become frazzled or anything. He's been great for us. "I think this team won't ever find anybody like him, a coach that you can always communicate with, where no matter what is going on it's comforting and always brings a positive note. A lot of other coaches don't do that, you don't expect that from them. You don't expect them to when you hear them talk. We don't hear them talk. We know what we expect and he sets the standard for that." That standard is a 4-0 record, although a 0-2 start and the fact that the Panthers haven't exceeded 64 points in a game forced Rivera to go out and get a little more. Heading into this week, he thought there might be some growing pains at QB, so he basically outsourced things to third-year player Cam Newton. And "we knew who we were," as Newton was told Rivera wanted someone who has "experience managing a game in a situation where you're not just getting ready to win and getting everything rolling." "You know in a sense — and he did, I think, a good job (of talking to me) — if you got a borderline veteran athlete at that spot, (like in Chicago) then I think that would have more

With Horror City rising from the ashes, the newly elected Mayor, Chief Loco and his loyal right-hand man. Chief Jimbo have a tough job on their hands - and they need a group of people to be there for them, as the town's residents fight to stay alive. On top of that, the Undead have risen again and are taking over. It's up to you to fight crime and save lives - and only your pop-culture skills can help you do it. The Horror City world is an RPG Maker VX Ace Version compatible game. To use the characters in this pack, you will need to have the full VX Ace package installed. Made For: RPG Maker VX Ace Author Notes This skin pack is a modified version of the Heroes of Fortune Pack by Potwell Style, with heavy modifications. Credits go to T-Juuso for his amazing work on the Hero facesets, and to Fabio and Mark for the zombie facesets. The design has been made with a Newtown feel to it, with this being the closest thing to a real horror city setting. That has been more or less a constant theme of this mod pack; We really wanted to try and inspire your imagination into creating the ultimate horror city with Horror City. User reviews: Overall: Very good Review by Tetraly Overall: This mod is great Review by Ophids Overall: Horror City Police and Fire Services Vox Prima put it well: "As a city, Horror City is a fascinating place. As a roleplaying experience, it's a total hit." This mod aims at giving us the opportunity to get to the heart of the matter with our NPCs, protagonists, humans and zombies. To do that we put our heads together and created an amazing set of resources, from facesets, sprites, polylibraries, backgrounds and custom objects to make the world come alive, maybe even to scare you a little. The difficulty is getting it right. These characters have to live in a terrifying city where the undead rule. But why should we let them face that on their own? We at EXPLO's continue this city's adventure, aiming to live up to the possible of a Horror City, to give everything its own special touch. Now, this is no ordinary city. It's populated by zombies, cannibals, ghosts, a pack
