The New Sixth Edition Continues to Provide Excellent Coverage of Exercise Physiology, Uniting the Topics of Human.Lawmakers, rail officials to resume talks on possible agreement Lawmakers and representatives from commuter railroads met this week in hopes of reaching an agreement on a deal to allow some Acela Express trains to continue to travel between New York and Washington, D.C. On Wednesday, Senate and House Transportation Committee staff met to discuss the agreement. It was the first time the committees met since last month when the agreement came to a standstill. Lawmakers are to meet again Thursday. The agreement in question is between Amtrak and CSX, the primary operator of the Northeast Corridor. Lawmakers and railroad representatives have come up with a possible agreement regarding the use of Amtrak's Acela Express trains. CSX and Amtrak have been at odds since March, when the two had an agreement that banned certain trains from using the NEC. Before the agreement, trains on CSX's Northeast Corridor would use the track to service Washington D.C., Baltimore,

Philadelphia and other points, but trains heading to New York had to travel in and out of the Amtrak right of way on Pennsylvannia Avenue. Some trains would also use the Haverstraw Junction until a permanent agreement was reached. Advertisement But CSX stopped allowing
